March 30, 2022

The Sarver Heart Center honors doctors for their dedication and contribution to our missions. Thank you for all you do!

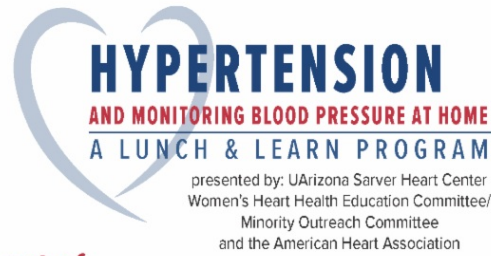

March 30th was selected in honor of Dr. Crawford W. Long, the physician who on March 30, 1842 first used ether for surgical anesthesia. Today we continue to celebrate medical advances and those at work on those to come!

Grand Rounds

Eugene Yang, MD, MS, FACC visited the Sarver Heart Center this month to present "The ABCDEs of Prevention." Dr. Yang is a professor of medicine in the Division of Cardiology at the University of Washington School of Medicine.

Dr. Yang described recent progress in the research, diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. Thank you, Dr. Yang, for your insightful presentation!

Expanding Our Reach

At the Mayo Clinic Vascular Symposium in Phoenix, Michel Corban, MD presented "Gene and Cell Therapy in the Interventional Suite: Current and Future Applications." The conference highlighted multidisciplinary approaches to peripheral vascular disease, with a focus on the role of cardiologists.

Member Updates

Dr. Acharya appointed leader of Cardiogenic shock

Deepak Acharya, MD, MSPH, program director of the Interventional Cardiology Fellowship at Banner University Medical Center - Tucson, was appointed leader of Cardiogenic Shock in the Sarver Heart Center. Cardiogenic shock is a condition where the damaged heart becomes so weak and it is unable to support function of other organs. "Over the last 3 years, we have developed a multidisciplinary cardiogenic shock management approach at Banner in Tucson, and we are working on creating integrated cardiogenic shock management systems throughout all the hospitals in the Banner system," said Acharya. The director position was created to support Dr. Acharya's ongoing leadership in this effort.

Dr. Lee completes ACC Governor term

Congratulations to Kwan Lee, MD for completing his three-year governor term for the Arizona Chapter of the American College of Cardiology.
